DEDICATION

TO Miss Bishop, whose sympathy and interest for the Senior Class was unbounded, we gladly dedicate "The Brazilian"

1 9 2 4

That we have accomplished much in 1924 can readily be seen by looking back over the past year. In athletics, B. H. S. was represented by the best football team in years; the most successful basketball team we ever had; and the track and base ball teams were among the best in this part of the state. In dramatics, "Buddies" leads the list of class plays, and in social events there has never been a Junior-Senior Reception that compared with that of 1924. Then, lastly it marks the graduation of the largest and perhaps the best Senior Class that ever left old B. H. S.

FOREWORD

THIS book is but one of the hundreds like it, and to a casual observer reveals but little. To the Senior Class of 1924, however, its pages are alive with memories and scenes which cause us to pause and smile as we recall them. As we glance over the pages we once more hear the thud of the basket ball upon the floor, and the signals called on the football field. We are transferred into the past and again feel the thrill of those happy days. This is the purpose of the Brazilian, and we repeat the words of the American humorist who said:

“Go little booklet, go,
Bearing an honest name,
Until every where that you have went,
They’re glad that you have came.”

Parting Address to Class

May the twenty-seventh, nineteen hundred and twenty-four, will mark the passing of the largest and, of course, the best class in the history of the Brazil High School. And while we regret their going, the whole student body join in wishing them God speed and good luck in the days that are to come.

Long, long may their memories be filled with thoughts of old B. H. S.

MISS BISHOP.

THE BOARD OF CONTROL

Every school must have an organization to handle the financial end of the athletics, and this is the purpose of the Board of Control.

Each class, club, and athletic team is represented by a student member, and each have an equal share in the activities of the Board.

This organization has a written constitution which gives it the power to receive and allow all bills concerning athletic activities and to make athletic awards at the recommendation of the coach of the teams, and upon the necessary vote of the board.

The officers are:

President, Mr. Pell.

Treasurer, Mr. Cutshall.

Secretary, Barbara Akers.

THE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

"Here I am, the old Junior High School. Don't I look natural? I haven't changed a bit since you were over here. I remember when you folks first came here from the grade schools, half scared, and lost most of the time for the first week or so. Of course you soon got used to me and we became fast friends."

"You surely did like to run around the halls and make life miserable for the teachers, and get yourself on the conduct list."

"Gee, but those were happy days, and it seems as if it were only yesterday. I'll never forget you, and I hope you will always remember me, no matter where you go or what you do."

GRADUATING CLASS

Log of the Class of '24

Sail on, sail on, O '24.

Sail on, sail on, nor slight an oar.

The good ship of '24 embarked on its first voyage September 20, 1920. With trusty pilots and a true rudder it has steered a straight course during the four years it took to complete its first voyage. Although buffeted by storms and winds and the many tempests that have beset its path, with sails flying it has weathered the rack, and now has come to rest in the quiet waters of Port Graduation.

With a creaking of rigging and a hoisting of sails we were off on the second year of our voyage with Reece Stigler as our Captain, Clyde Phillips as mate, Helen Yeager as chief yeoman and Rosemary Bucklin, paymaster. Although our course was beset by storms, a few incidents helped to brighten the voyage, one of which was the watch party in the cabin of the Chief Paymaster with Admiral and Mrs. Pell as guests.

The third year of our voyage dawned bright and fair, and with a trusty crew composed of Captain Yeager, Mate Stearley, Yeoman Culbertson, and Paymaster Phillips we weathered gales and perils and celebrated our victories with Ensign Caress at Hallowe'en. We entertained the crew of '23 in the harbor of B. H. S. with a reception in honor of their safe voyage through the seas of High School Life.

Then came the last and greatest year of our voyage. After the difficulties of selecting a crew were over we lifted anchor and embarked.

The officers chosen were:

George Stearley, Captain.

Helen Yeager, Mate.

Irma Irwin, Paymaster.

Barbara Akers, Yeoman.

Mr. Pell and Mr. Moffet and Miss George, Admirals.

We find the duties attendant on this last year of our voyage are many and heavy, but this, the Log of '24, is an eloquent though silent witness that we have discharged them fully and faithfully. We celebrated our first victory at Port Hallowe'en with Jackie Lautenschlager. Again our crew were delightfully entertained by the good ship '25 with a reception in honor of our almost completed voyage. It is with mingled feelings of regret and joy that we sight Ports Baccalaureate and Graduation, and know this eventful voyage is at an end.

Golden Days

Oh, the golden days! our glad school days,
When youth was in the bloom;
When our hearts beat light, as the thistles flight,
And our minds were free from gloom.

Oh, those golden days! our high school days,
Now numbered with the past—
Their joys we quaffed as we gaily laughed,
Nor reckoned they could not last.

But their course is run in the sands of time,
And we stand with reluctant feet,
By the river's side, that is deep and wide,
Where the men of the wide world meet.

And we face to the front with purpose bold,
Our fortunes and fate to try;
Tho we pause the while, with a tear and a smile,
For the days in old Brazil High.

SENIORS

JUNIOR CLASS

CLASS OF '25

The true history of the Junior Class begins when one bright September day, a day different from all other September days somehow, we entered the door of dear old B. H. S. with our books under our arms, ready for three years of work—and play.

We were a peppy Sophomore Class, we must admit, and we completed our first year at the Senior High ready to start the next year with the same spirit.

Then the time came when the honor of being the Junior Class was thrust upon us, and one of the best Junior Classes there ever has been was the result.

We elected the following officers: Ray Harris, President; Helen Urban, Vice-President; Ruth Rentschler, Secretary; Margaret Leachman, Treasurer.

Then came the Junior-Senior Reception, and such a reception! With the Seniors as our guests, we can say without boasting, that it broke all precedent for splendor and entertainmdnt.

We look eagerly forward to next year when the Class of '25 will complete its history, and we will make it the biggest of four big years, in athletics, social fetes and scholarship.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

CLASS OF '26

We, as Sophomores, haven't been in the Senior High School very long, but we have been here long enough to gain a decided opinion, and that it is the best school in the world is our opinion.

We started out in the seventh grade at the Junior High, and like all other seventh graders, we gradually worked up, from where we were lost all the time, up to the eighth grade. Then came the time when we became Freshmen. What a thrill we had at being the highest class at the Junior High.

At last came that eventful day when we started in as Sophomores at the Senior High building, and here we are looking forward to the time when we will be Seniors and edit a "Brazilian."

ATHLETICS OF THE YEAR

FOOT-BALL

On Labor Day, September 3, 1923, approximately thirty-five men, all aspirants for the team were issued suits. Of this number about twenty-five fought it through, thick and thin, till the end of the season. With ten letter men from last year, and with several of the numeral men, besides the new material that turned out, everybody was optimistic as to the outcome of the season. The first game being only three weeks away the squad worked hard to make this year one of the most successful Brazil ever had. The following is the review of the season.

JEFFERSON 6—BRAZIL 0

On September 22, the Jefferson High team of Lafayette defeated the Brazil warriors here in a hard fought game. Both teams showed the lack of practice and fumbles were numerous. The first three-quarters were evenly matched, but it was in the last quarter that a Brazil fumble was recovered by a Jefferson player who ran for a touchdown that spelled defeat for B. H. S.

MANUAL 20—BRAZIL 20

On September 28, the Brazil grid warriors journeyed to Indianapolis where they battled the Manual High team to a 20-20 tie. The first half was disastrous for B. H. S. In the second half the team went on the field full of determination and scrap. They outplayed the Manual team and had them beaten until in the last few minutes, when a Manual player recovered a fumble and ran for a touchdown which evened the count. The team deserves much praise for the way they played as they were greatly outweighed.

OBLONG 0—BRAZIL 19

The next game was played at Oblong, Illinois. Although the Red and White warriors were tired out by the long ride and the playing was very loose, they nevertheless won a comparatively easy victory over a heavier team. Mac Proctor was the star of the game, making long gains consistently through the line.

SULLIVAN 0—BRAZIL 33

The Brazil warriors broke the jinx of the 13th. when, on October 13 the Sullivan team came here to play. The Red and White players completely out-classed their opponents. It was more like a track meet for the Brazil back-field, because they were able to make long gains at will. After the varsity piled up a comfortable lead Moffet made numerous substitutions to find out what the players could do. The entire team played a scrappy game from start to finish.

SHORTRIDGE 0—BRAZIL 10

On October 17, the Brazil warriors showed their appreciation to the townspeople for the support that they had given during the previous games by defeating Shortridge 10-0. The business houses of the city closed for the afternoon, and despite the rain and mud the side lines were packed with rooters. The gridiron itself resembled a sea of mud. When the teams took their places on the field Henderson saw that it would be useless to try to make gains through Shortridge's heavy line. So Tommy started sending the plays around the ends. They were not very successful during the first half, as Crabb's 45 yard place kick was the only tally made in the first half which ended 3-0. The Red and White team came back in the last half full of determination to win a decisive victory over Shortridge. After a few minutes of close playing Henderson made a sensational 50 yard run around the left end for the only touchdown of the game. The entire B. H. S. team deserves a great amount of praise for the game that they played. As usual, each man of the Brazil team was outweighed by his opponent, especially Cashman, our left guard, who handled the big 307 pound Schreck like a veteran.

CRAWFORDSVILLE 0—BRAZIL 59

On October 26, the Brazil grid warriors journeyed to Crawfordsville where they played that team on Dean's field. The day was ideal for a game, and the field was in fine condition. Both of the schools showed fine school spirit. In spite of the six weeks "Exams" a large crowd of rooters accompanied the team and were rewarded by seeing the Red and White team "bring home the bacon" to the tune of 59-0. Brazil completely outclassed their opponents in every part of the game. The entire Red and White team played a fine game, Bard being the individual star by making three touchdowns, the last one after a spectacular 95 yard run. Cook made two touchdowns, while Crabb, Houk, Goddard and Dean each counted one apiece. Crabb made one try for point while Houk made four.

WILEY 13—BRAZIL 0

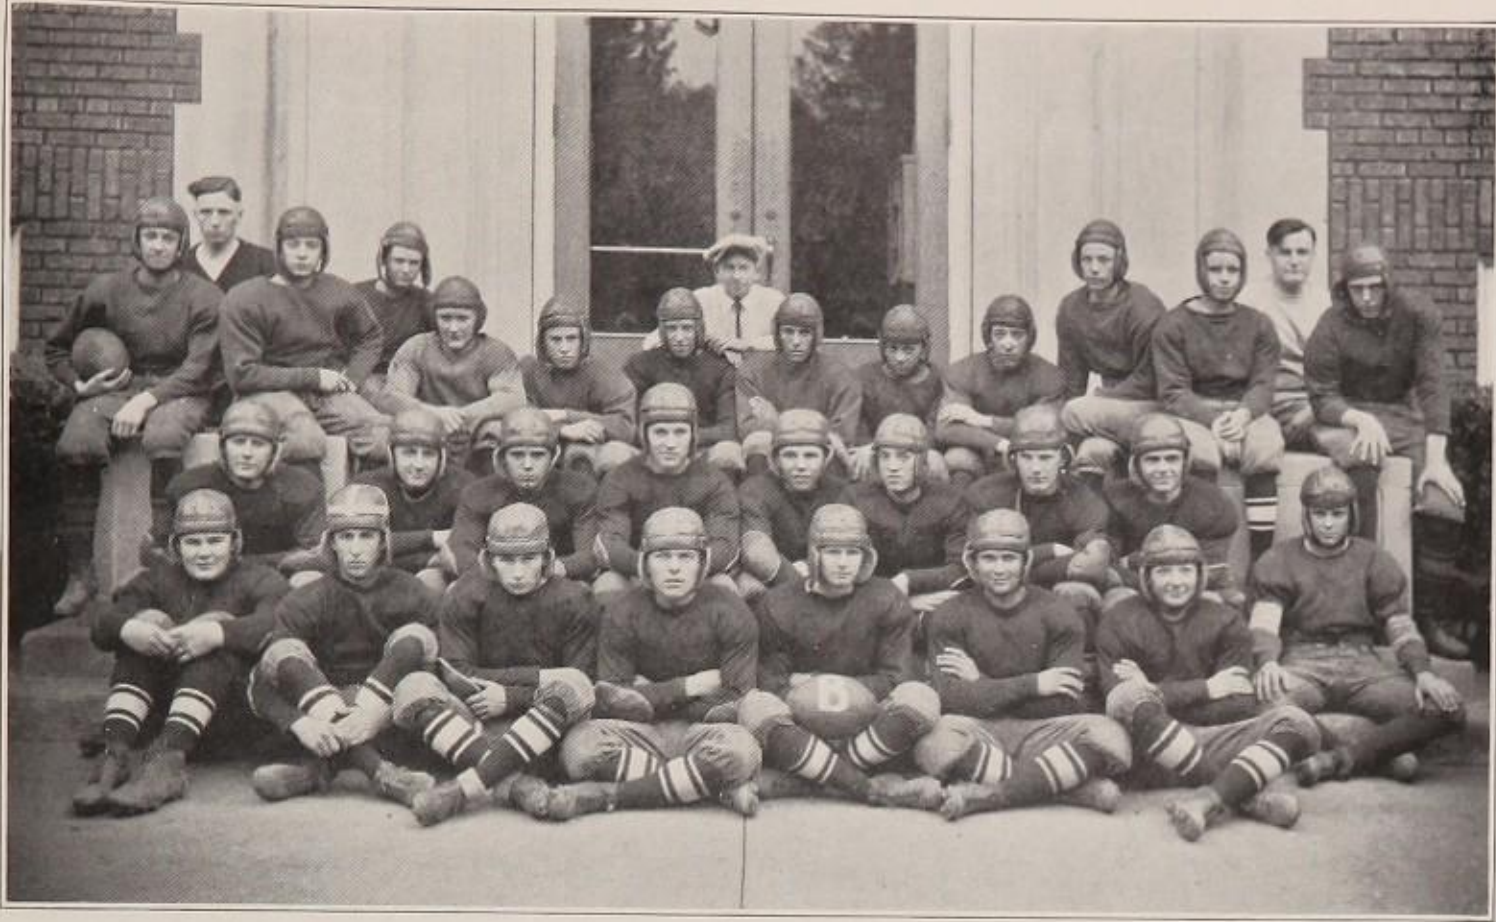

On November 3, the Brazil warriors met defeat at the hands of the Wiley team by a score of 13-0. The game was played at Terre Haute. The field was a sea of mud, which was a disadvantage to our warriors, and Wiley had the heavier team which always has the advantage on a slippery field. Although Brazil put up a stiff battle they were somewhat weakened by injuries. Ed Dean and Proctor starred for Brazil.

WILKINSON 13—BRAZIL 6

The Brazil grid warriors journeyed to Wilkinson November 16, to give them a big surprise. Wilkinson was recognized as one of the strongest teams in the state, but Brazil proved to be a formidable opponent for even the best. It was the second time this year that Wilkinson had been scored on, and Ed Dean was the first player in two years to make a touchdown against them on their own field. Wilkinson made a lightning start and made a touchdown in a very few minutes after the game started, but the Red and White team soon found themselves and held their opponents for the rest of the half. They managed to make a touchdown to tie the score before the end of the half. In the second half our team displayed some real foot-ball and the ball was kept in Wilkinson's territory most of the half. Brazil weakened for a few moments and Wilkinson was allowed to make a long gain which resulted in another touchdown and they made their try for point. Many of the Wilkinson fans complimented the Red and White team on the game that they played and their clean sportsmanship.

CLINTON 0—BRAZIL 12

This Turkey Day game will go down in the annals of B. H. S. history. An unusually large crowd braved the cold rain and mud to see the Red and White team do something that they have been unable to do for five years, and that was to beat Clinton. Both teams entered the game confident of winning.

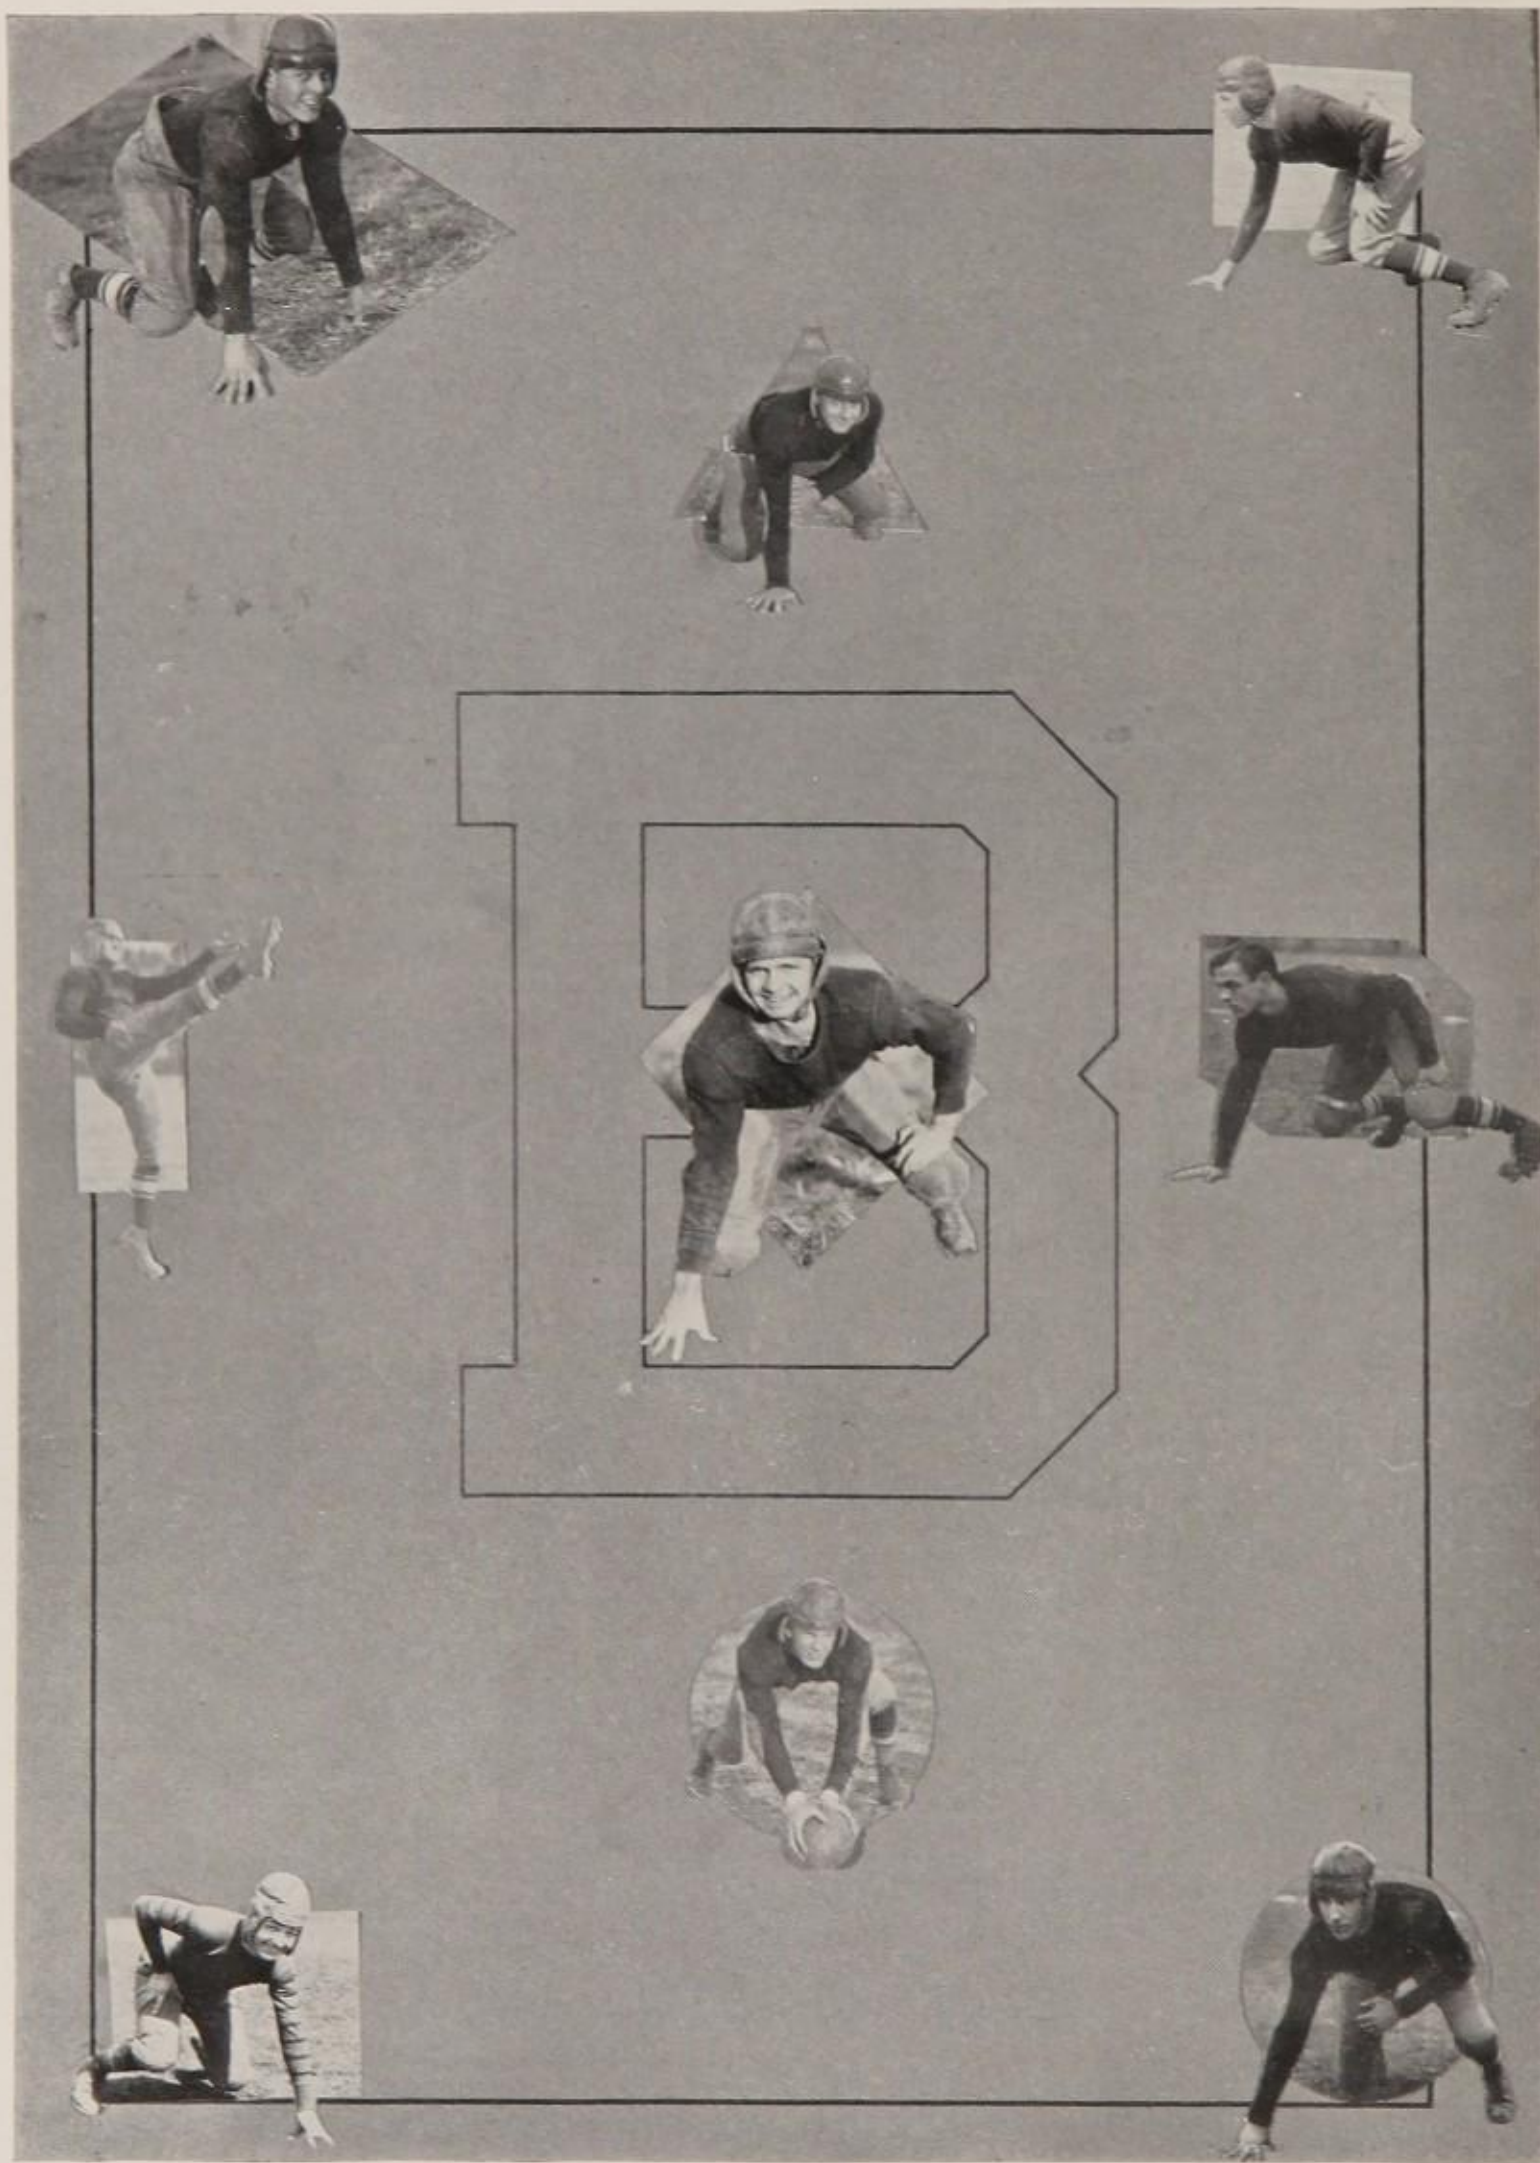

FOOT BALL SQUAD

Brazil started off with a rush, but before they could push over a touchdown Clinton settled down and held Brazil till the closing minutes of the first half, when Mac Proctor broke loose for a 30 yard gain which brought the ball near the goal line. From here Henderson carried it over just as the whistle blew. The half ended 6-0. Clinton came back strong in the start of the second half and carried the ball to Brazil's 5 yard line where Ed Dean made a sensational tackle that saved a touchdown. In the last quarter Mac Proctor again broke loose for a long gain which placed the ball on the 1 yard line, Henderson again plunged over for a touchdown. Proctor, Henderson and Ed Dean were the individual stars of the game, but it is also necessary to give a great amount of praise and credit to the remaining players of the team. This game was a fit ending of one of the most successful seasons in the school's history.

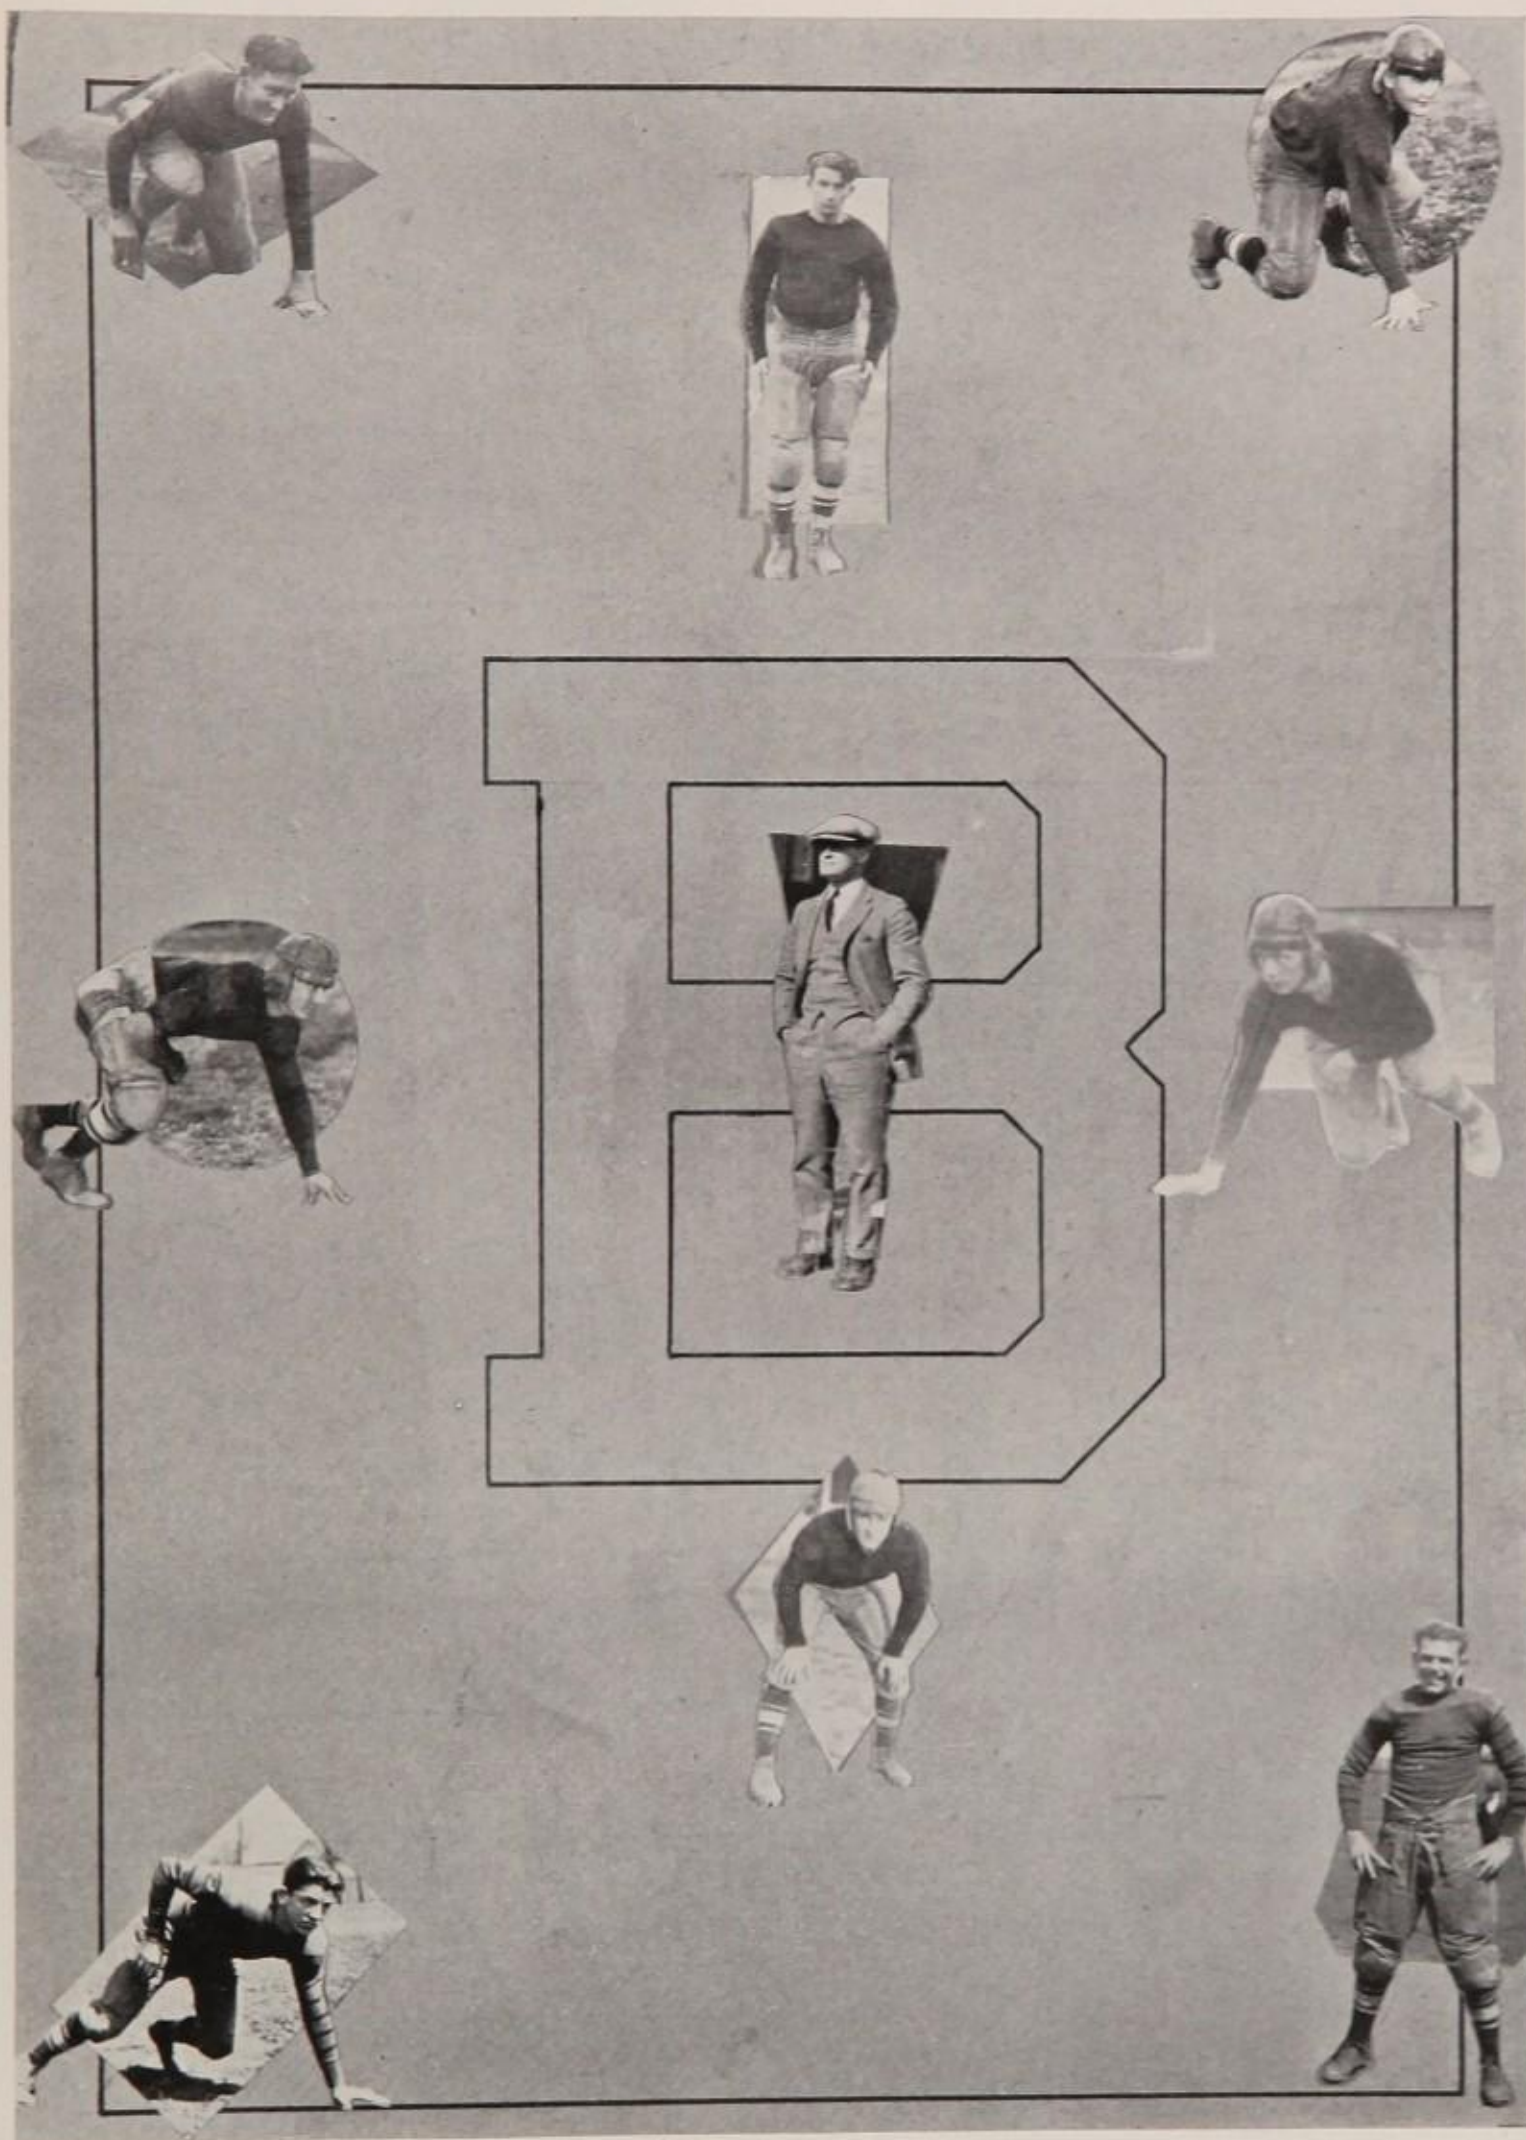

Although B. H. S. loses such men as Crabb, Captain Henderson, Stephenson, Cashman, Urban, Houk, Bolin and Doyle, we will still have nine letter men with which to start next season, so our prospects look unusually bright for a winning team.

We will have with us Captain-elect Pierce, Bard, Alexander, Stonehart, Proctor, Goddard, Kidwell, Cook and Dean.

The schedule has already been arranged, and includes some of the best teams in the state.

BASKET BALL

1923-24 SEASON

Brazil was represented this year by one of the strongest teams that they have ever been able to put on the floor. With only four letter men from last year as a nucleus, Coach Moffet developed a team that won 13 out of 19 scheduled games besides the County and Sectional Championship honors.

The the team started off with a jump by defeating Clinton in the first game. Then came two defeats at the hands of Clay City and Sullivan. The Red and White Team then hit its stride and won six in a row, including victories over Wiley, Bainbridge and Sullivan. The team then went to Mitchell and Bedford, and lost in both of these games by a large score. Then it staged another comeback by winning four straight. Among these games was the victory over our old rival, Glenn, by a score of 52-26. The next game was one of the most thrilling ever witnessed on the local floor. Wiley, our old antagonist, came over confident of getting revenge for the defeat handed them by Brazil in the early part of the season. It was a fast nip and tuck game all the way through, first one team would take the lead and then the other. It was only in the last half minute that Settle of Wiley dropped in a short field goal which defeated the Brazil team. The team then won two from Noblesville, by a large score in both games. Following these was the County Tournament which Brazil took rather easily by defeating Bowling Green, Clay City and Van Buren. The next game was another hair raiser, with Bainbridge, here, but Brazil won in the last few minutes of play. The team then lost their last scheduled game at Clinton, after playing two hard fought overtime periods. The game also was hard fought all the way through. The next appearance of the Red and White team was in the Sectional Tournament which they won without much difficulty. The teams to fall before the Red and White Team in this tournament were: Staunton, Bellmore, Cory, and Rockville in the finals. The team drew one of the strongest teams in the state for the opening round of the regional tournament at Bloomington, and consequently they lost to Franklin 31-15.

The Red and White Team has now been district champs for two consecutive years and deserves a great amount of praise because it was not a one man team, but a smooth-working, uniform one.

PERSONNEL OF THE TEAM

Captain Thomas "Pug" Henderson again displayed the same ability of leadership on the basket-ball team as he did on the foot-ball field. He held, and was able to preserve the confidence of the team members which is so essential to success. "Pug" had the respect of a great number that witnessed the games. The visiting teams always spoke in high praise of his sportsman-like conduct. "Pug" is lost by graduation this year, but he goes out as having made a very enviable record in athletics. Tom had the honor of being Captain of both the foot-ball and basket-ball teams the same year.

Captain-elect Ed "Gassy" Dean was the elongated center. He was a fine center, getting the tip-off from his opponent every time. Ed was an accurate shot, a good dribbler, and good at getting back on defence. Ed will be a great asset to the team next year and it is assured a good leader in him.

CICERONIAN HISTORY CLUB

CICERONIAN HISTORY CLUB

The Ciceronian History Club having completed their membership roll of twenty-five, early in the year, began its regular work and was soon running smoothly with its old enthusiasm. The regular meetings were always interesting and instructive, and the parties also helped to bind the members together in good fellowship.

Katharine Culbertson, Milo Roberts and Irma Irwin were chosen to represent the Club in the Annual Webster-Ciceronian Debate, and after much hard work these three won out over their blue and gray opponents. This places the total number of debates won by the Ciceronians at three, while the Websters have won two.

Much of the success of the club is due to Mr. Muncie, sponsor for both organizations, and the Ciceronians feel deeply indebted to him for his help in giving them unprejudiced views of the world problems of today.

All of the activities of the club were not confined to work; several delightful social affairs were enjoyed. The most important of them was the Inter-Club Banquet where the Ciceronians were guests of the Websters.

Let it be remembered that the object of the club in work or play is to promote school spirit and high ideals.

TRACK SQUAD

TRACK

Brazil was represented in track this year by a very well balanced team, though the team is somewhat weaker in the field events than in track events. We have men of such caliber as: Crabb, Houk, Doyle and M. Dean for the dashes; Osman and Payne for the distance runs; Henderson, Cook and Bard for the hurdles; Henderson, Ent and Bard for the pole vault; Ed Dean, Houk and Cook for the broad jump; Ed Dean, Kidwell and Crabb for the shot put; and Ed Dean and Cook for the high jump; while Ed Dean, Doyle, Kidwell and Bates Miller will take care of the javelin and discus throws. With such an abundance of good material to choose from, a winning team is assured. Brazil can always be counted on to place in every event.

Henderson tied the state record for the 220 yard low hurdles last year, and he threatens to establish a new record this year. Brazil has men capable of equaling or breaking the various records in other events.

Brazil easily won the Triangular meet here between Manual and Greencastle. Brazil scored 59 points, Manual was second with 29 points, while Greencastle finished last with 11.

The meets we participated in this year were:

April 19—Triangular: (Manual of Indianapolis, Greencastle and Brazil.) Here.

April 26—Tiger Meet at Paris, Illinois.

May 3—DePauw Freshmen here.

May 10—District Meet here.

May—State Meet at Indianapolis.

The Inter-class Track Meet was held on the evening of April 10 and 11. The Juniors won the meet with a total of 57 points. The Seniors were second with $37\frac{1}{2}$, the Junior High third with 5 points, while the Sophs were last with $1\frac{1}{2}$. The first evening the meet was a nip and tuck affair between the Juniors and Seniors, the score at the end being Juniors 24, Seniors 23. On the second evening the Juniors came out all primed to win the meet—and they did.

BASE BALL

Base Ball in the past few years has proved itself to be one of the most interesting sports of High School Athletics. Although a very short season with only a few games, much spirit is shown and there is quite a bit of clean competition. Last year the Brazil High School Nine finished first in the Hoosier Six League and were awarded a very fine Silver Trophy as the result.

This year there has been organized a base ball tournament of any teams wanting to take part from Indiana. Brazil will take their place in this tournament and have a splendid chance of finishing near the lead. It will be held at Lafayette.

Starting the season Coach Moffett had only five old regular men from last year's team. They were: Goddard, E. Dean, Crabb, Proctor and Stearley.

Ed Dean and "Lefty" Goddard were the pitching staff and were both good performers on the mound. Helton was behind the bat. The infield consisted of Stearley, 3rd. base; Proctor, short stop; Crabb, 2nd. base; Williams and F. Dean, 1st. base. Other candidates for infield positions were: Krider, G. Doyle, Payne and Cagle. The outfield consisted of: Cook, left field; Dean or Goddard, center field; Doyle, right field; Cashman, Goodin, Hill, Hostetler and Carbury. Fred Payne was the manager and did his work in a very fine way.

The schedule was.

North Terre Haute.....	There	April 18.
Normal.....	Here.....	April 25.
Wiley.....	Here.....	May 9.
Garfield.....	There.....	May 16.
Glenn.....	Here.	May 23.

The Brazil High Junior Hi Team also brought honors to the school by winning 15 out of 17 games and the Wabash Valley Junior Hi Tournament. The success of the season was due to the hard work of Coach Sexton, who, without any experienced players, turned out the strongest combination that ever represented the school.

The only teams that were able to defeat the Junior Hi were Clay City and Sullivan. These games were played at the beginning of the season when a permanent team had, not yet been selected, and the games were also played on the opponent's floors.

The team this year was composed of Captain Andrews, Lane, Goodwin, Cagle, Oswalt, Clift, Stonehart, Hess, Maxwell and Weaver. With many of the above mentioned players as a nucleus for next year the school can feel assured of being represented by another strong team which hopes to repeat the record made this year.

ORGANIZATIONS AND ACTIVITIES

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The last of April marked the announcement of the names of those chosen for the National Honor Society, consisting of Seniors who stand highest in scholarship, leadership, character and service for the four years of high school.

From those eligible the following were chosen:

Barbara Akers	Rena Poland
Albert Acree	Orville Redenbacher
Margaret Boyd	John Randolph
Grace Butler	Herman Shopmeyer
Katharine Culbertson	Helen Stewart
Irma Irwin	Mary Weber
Emanuel Miller	Helen Yeager
Julia Nance

To be a member of this organization is an asset as well as the greatest honor to come to a Senior, because colleges are beginning to look more and more to the ranks of the Honor Society for leaders in scholarship and school activities.

WEBSTER HISTORY CLUB

THE WEBSTER HISTORY CLUB

The Webster History Club started out full of pep and enthusiasm as usual at the beginning of the year and has kept up the spirit.

The club was organized five years ago, to promote the study of present day questions, and to give a knowledge of parliamentary law and debating to its members.

As usual, there was much rivalry between the Websters and the Ciceronians, but it has always proved to be of a very wholesome sort as was shown in the joint meetings and the debate.

The Inter-Club Debate is always an event to look forward to, and the Webster debaters, Helen Yeager, Reece Stigler and Clyde Phillips, worked hard to make the contest a keen one. The debate was closely contested, and it was difficult to tell which side had the advantage. The Ciceronians won after many good arguments on both sides, and it fell to the lot of the Websters to entertain the winning club at a banquet.

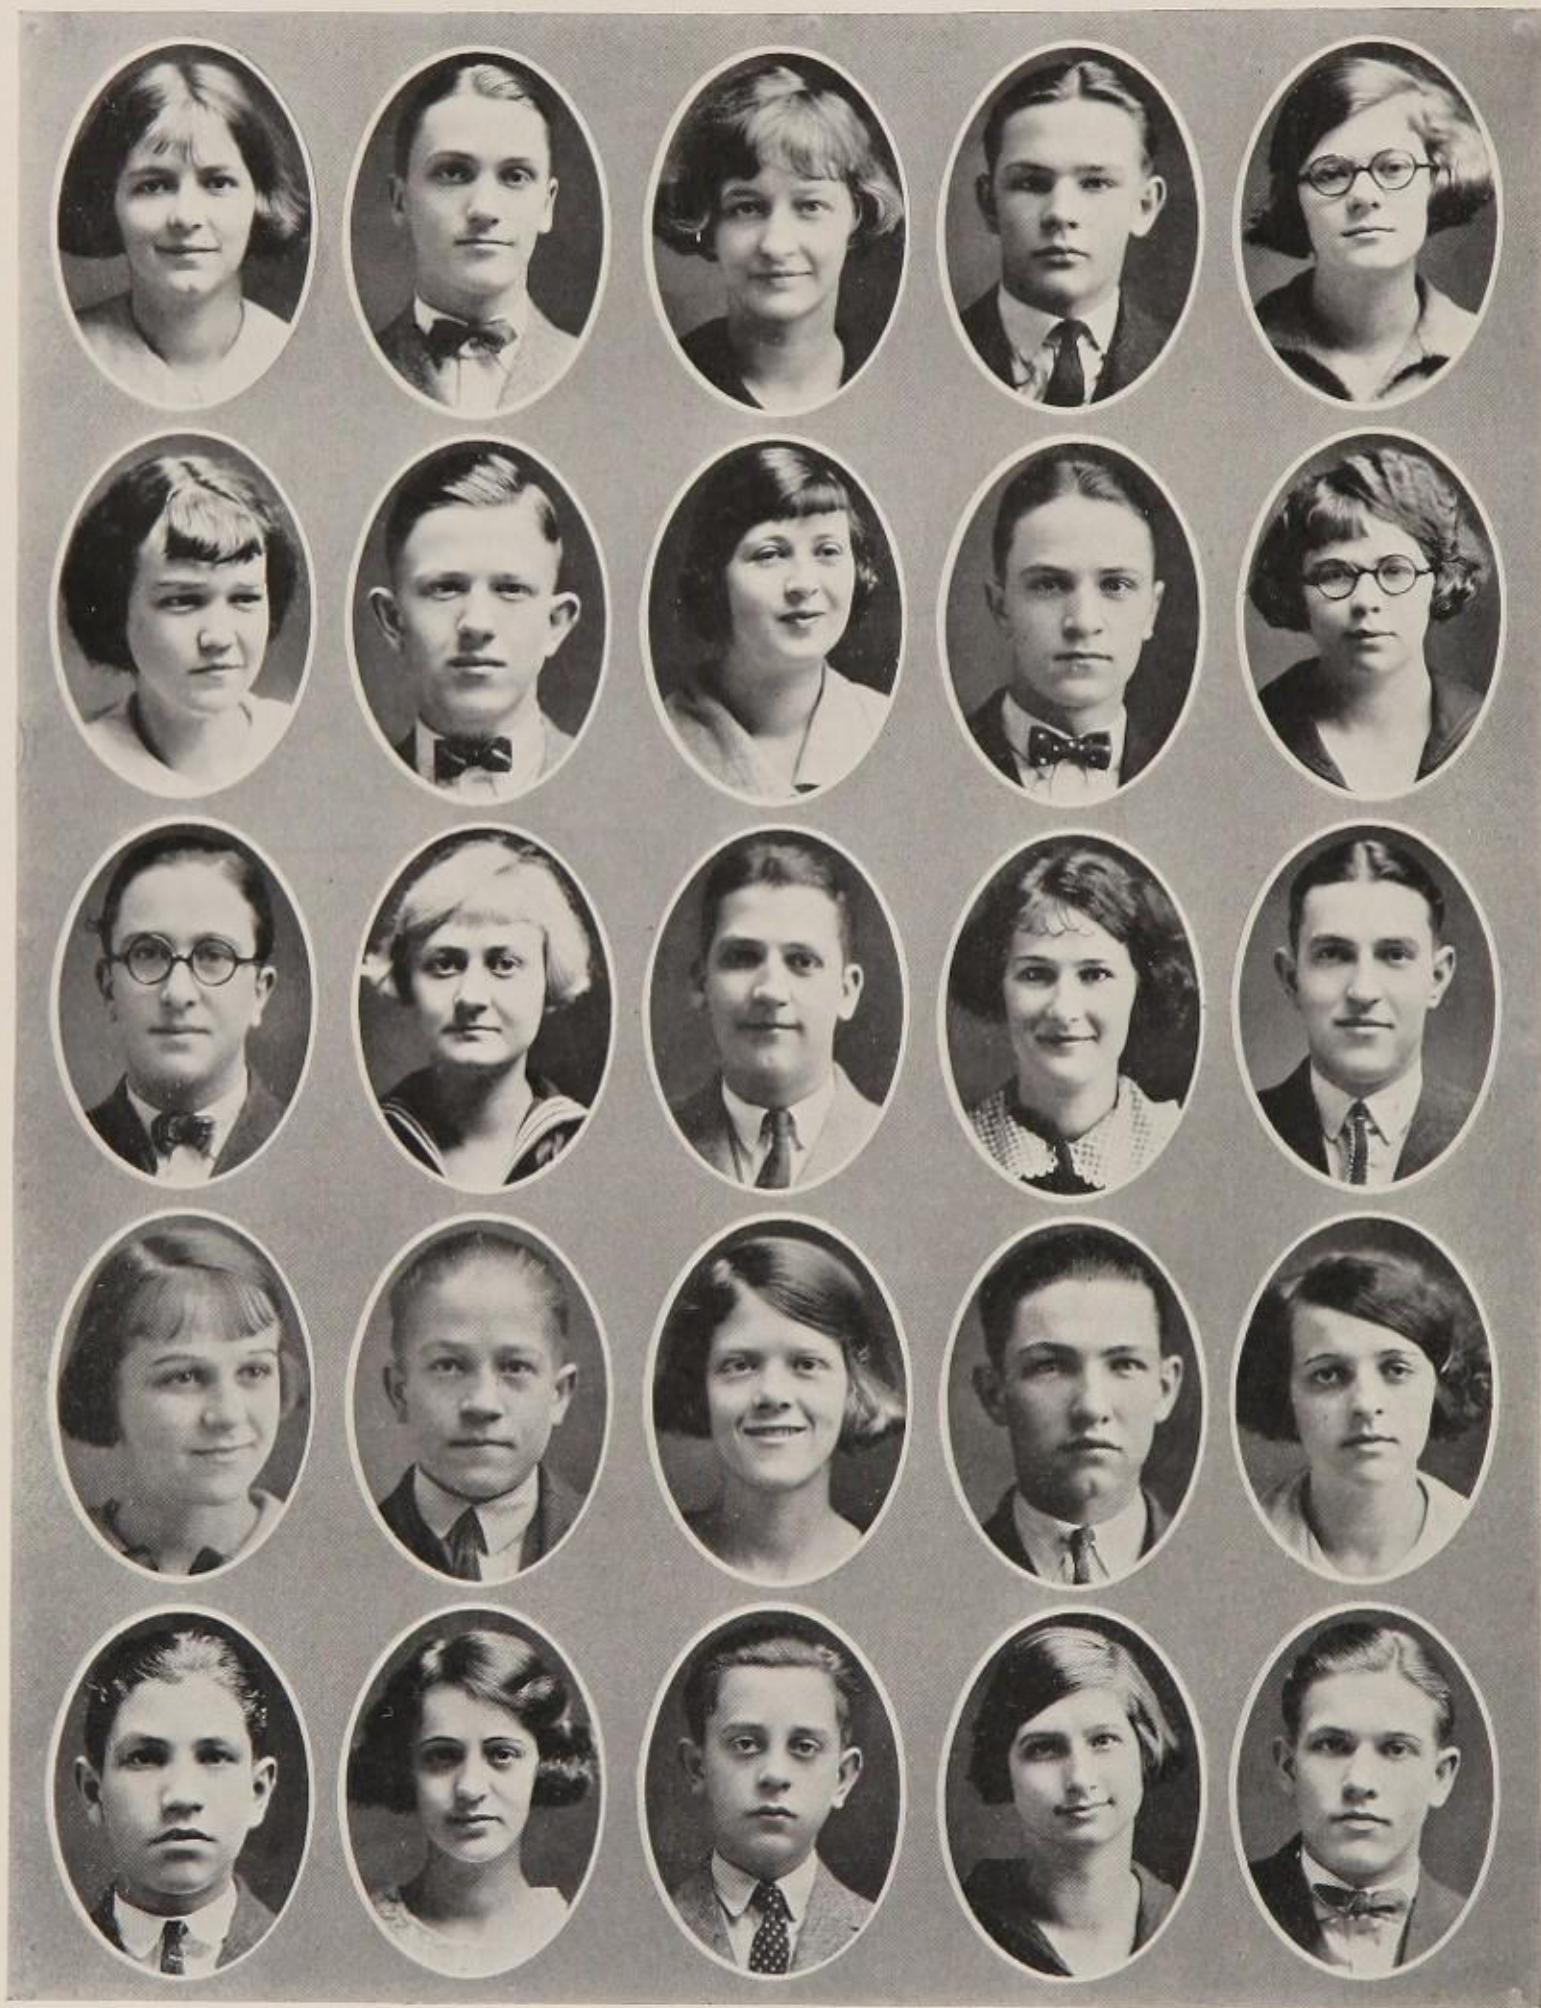

Of all the events in which the two clubs took part, the Inter-Club Banquet was a fitting climax, and the Websters deserve praise for the fine manner in which they entertained their guests.

Two delightful parties were held during the year which helped to promote the aim of the History Club, which is to strengthen school spirit and good fellowship.

The members of the club are:

Reece Stigler
Ruth Rentschler
Andrew Bard
Hazel Stunkard
Milo Dean

DRAMATIC CLUB

DRAMATIC CLUB

The Dramatic Club was organized three years ago for the purpose of developing the art of talented pupils and promoting the "Little Theater" movement. The club has had much success in producing their plays this year. Much enthusiasm has been fostered by their good work, not only among the High School Students but among the older people as well.

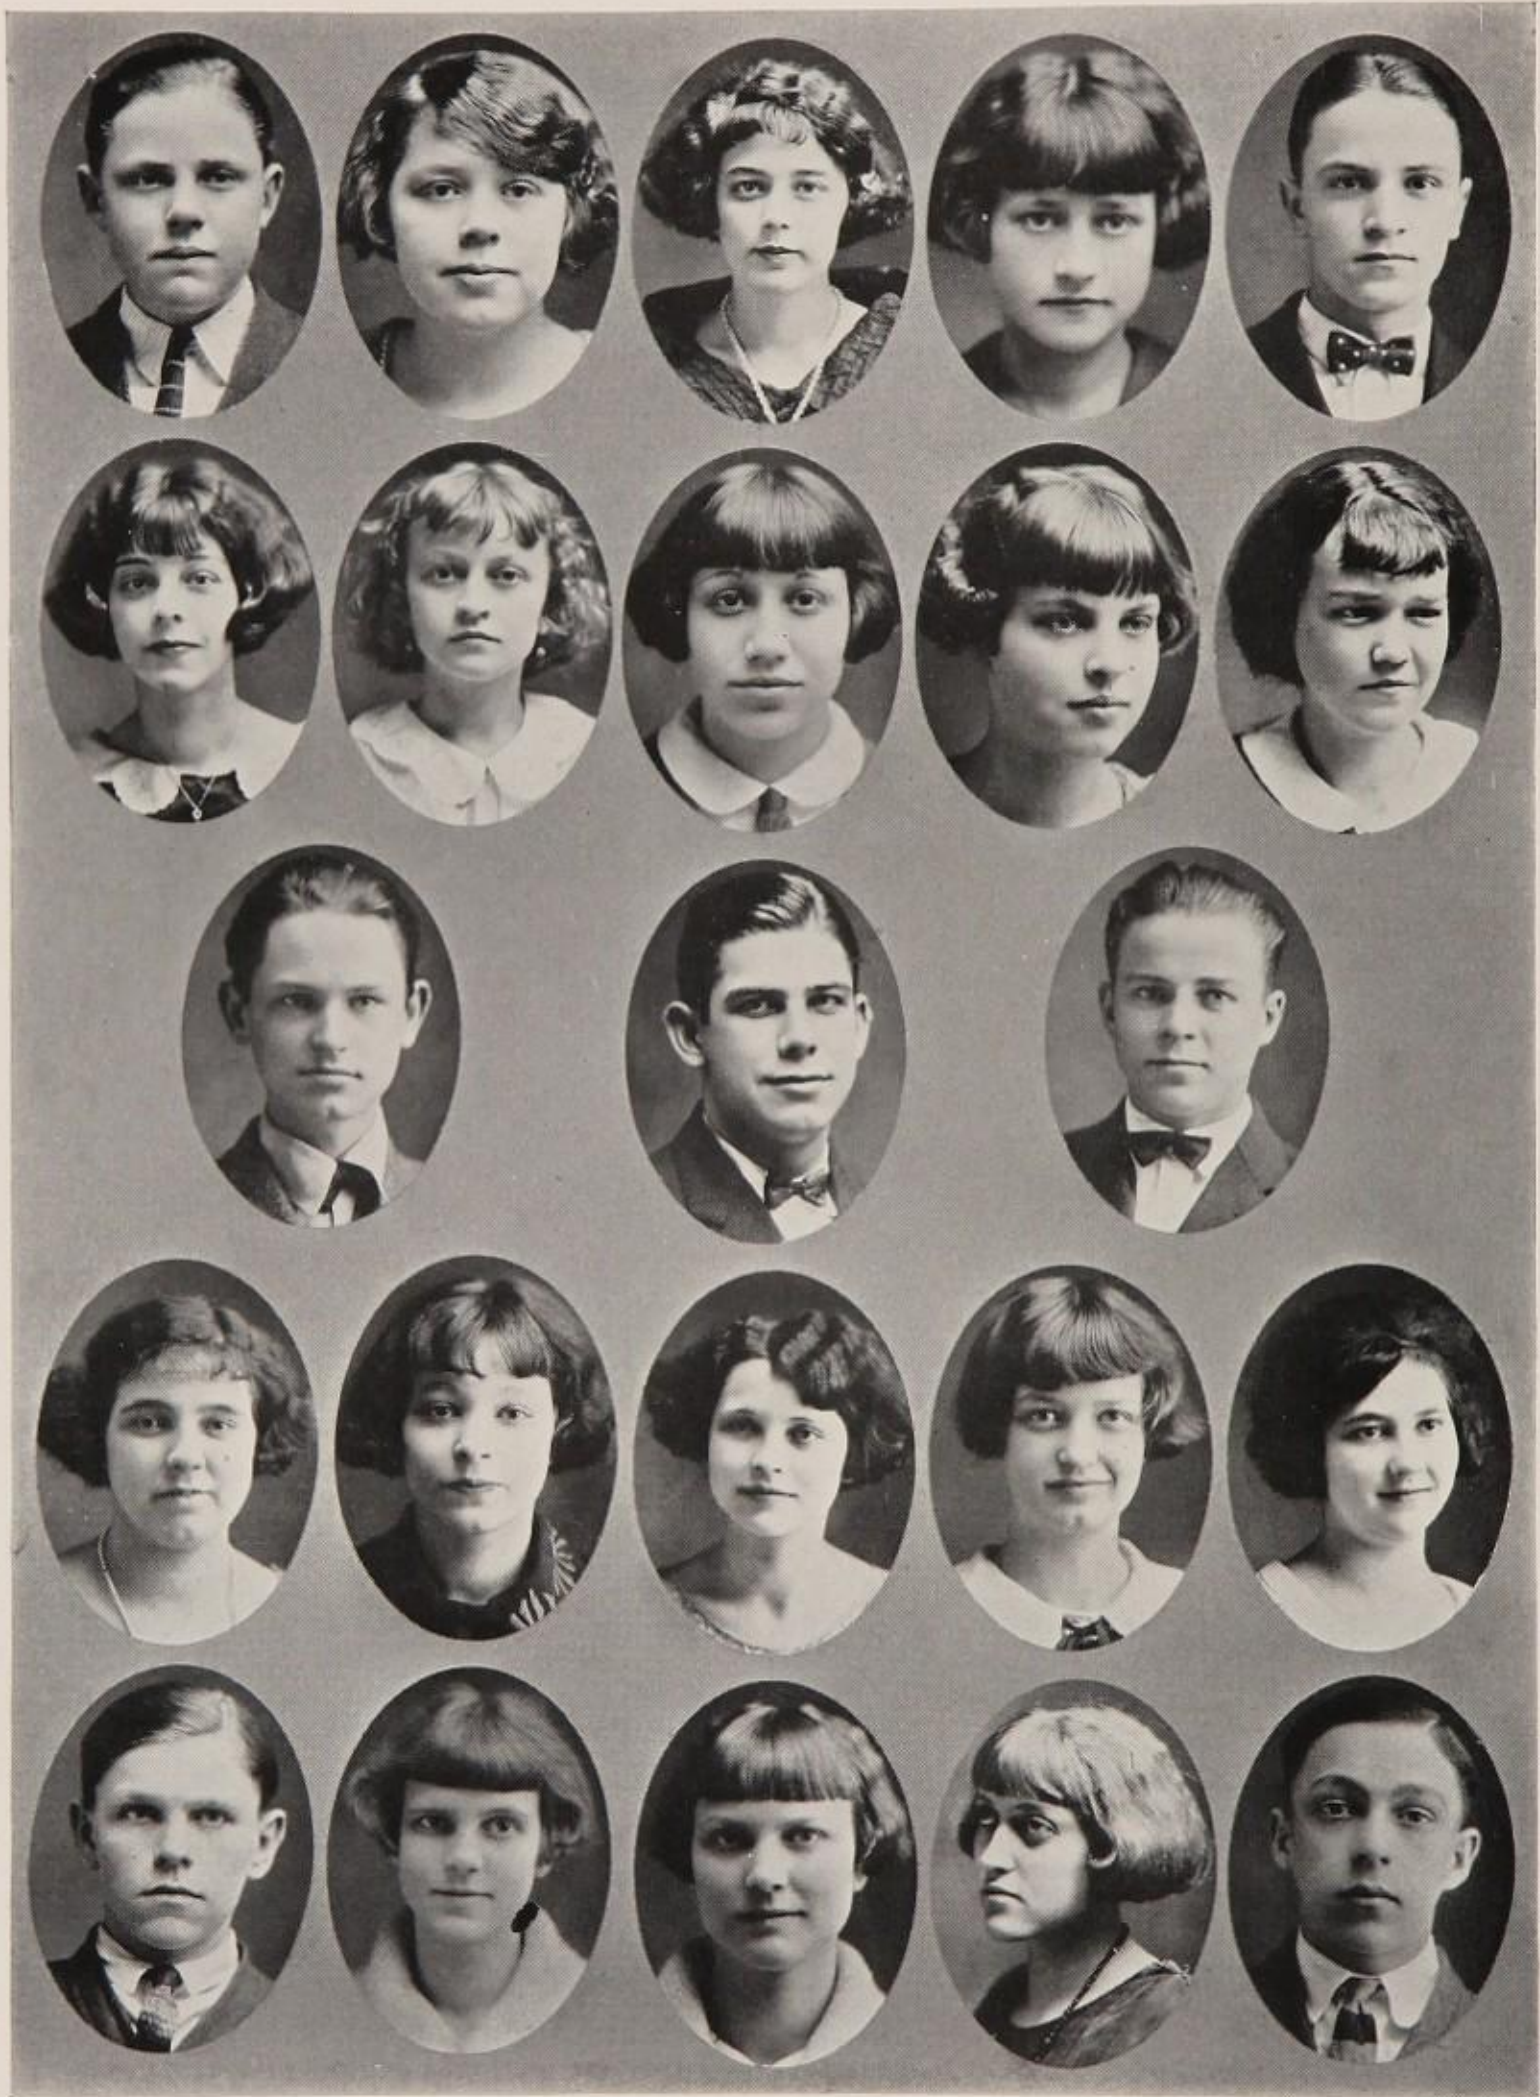

The proceeds of the plays have been used for the benefit of the school, consisting mainly of the buying of a Baby Grand Piano (with the co-operation of the Music Department) which will be used in chapels.

The usual try-out system was held this year in the selection of new members. Those taken in were: William Houk, Grace Butler, Katharine Culbertson, Mary Culbertson, Frances Cory, Harold Hill, Dorothy Harris, Charles Miller, Ruth Bard, Alfreeda James, Bertha Mae Wilson, Oral Bradley and Bryson Dobson.

The initiation was held at Pennyroyal, the country home of Rosemary Bucklin. After the initiation activities were over a weiner roast was enjoyed. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing and having a social good time.

The present members of the club are:

Ruth Bard	Harold Hill

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

A French Club known as the "Le Cercle Francais" was organized in October 1923. Any student having an average of E in French and general average of G+ was eligible to membership. Officers were elected and a Constitution was made. Also very attractive pins were chosen by a Committee.

The Club has had a very successful year taking up different phases of the French life and language. Meetings were held every week and roll-call was answered with proverbs, short poems, names of animals or fruits, all spoken in French. Very interesting programs were carried out at the meetings, songs sung in French, and various sorts of music by the talented members. Spelling and adding matches in French furnished great amusement. Many games were played, using French names and expressions.

The French language was used as much as possible at the meetings. The members studied a part of the History of the French language, read some interesting descriptions of Paris, and some study was made of the "Le Petit Journal", a French Newspaper for American students.

New members were taken in at mid-year, and twelve members were initiated into the club. Several parties were enjoyed during the year, and on the whole the club has been very much of a success.

The Critics are Mary Clapp and Lucia Pierce.

SODALITAS LATINA

After several years of inactivity the Sodolitas Latina was reorganized on November 10, 1923, by a group of thirty-five students from the Virgil, Cicero and Caesar Classes, assisted by the teachers of the department who are the sponsors of the club.

The purpose of the organization is to bring the students of the Latin department into a closer relationship and to further their knowledge of the life and customs of the Roman people. Meetings have been held every two weeks since the date of organization, and different phases of the daily life of the Roman citizen have been discussed. Since the club is partially social in nature, one social meeting is being planned for the latter part of the second semester.

Since the reorganized Sodolitas Latina is the youngest of all the departmental clubs, its work has been to a great extent, experimental in form this year, but with a membership that is steadily growing in size and in enthusiasm, we are expecting great things of it next year.

SCIENCE CLUB

At the beginning of the year 1923-24, there were only three of the original members left in the Science Club. These three, Oral Bradley, William Houk and Herman Schopmeyer held a meeting November 5, 1923, and as a result of this meeting, a call for new members was sent out. There was a "rapid" and "ready" response, and from a number of candidates twenty-five members were chosen. The next meeting which was called November 19, 1923, was devoted to the organization and election of officers for the year. The officers elected were: Oral Bradley, President; Rena Poland, Vice-President; and Edmund Murphy, Secretary-Treasurer.

The main purpose of the club is to interest students in the study of science and to show how necessary and how abundantly science is used throughout everyday life. Secondary purpose is to teach certain phases of science which are impossible to be taught in class, because of lack of time. A third very definite purpose is the complete study of radio.

The science club has built several radio sets and has had several radio concerts. In the near future the club will have a night radio party.

Much credit for the success of the club is due to the untiring efforts of Mr. Downing, the sponsor.

MATH CLUB

The first meeting of the Math Club was called early in the year for the purpose of electing the members and officers. The club consisting of forty-two members was soon running smoothly with Miss Pierce and Mr. Kerr as sponsors.

The present officers are:

President. Irma Irwin
Vice-President, John Osman.
Treasurer, Kenneth Knapp.
Secretary, Rena Poland.

The object of the club is to interest students in certain phases of Mathematics and to bring the Math students into closer fellowship.

The programs consist of short talks on Mathematical subjects, readings, debates, trials and contests.

The first party was held at the home of Rena Poland and several new members were initiated. A Masque party was given at the home of Charlotte Lautenschlager on Hallowe'en. Later the club enjoyed a New Year's Banquet at the high school.

Much co-operation and good fellowship has been aroused, and the Math Club bids fair to be a prominent factor in the school. This has been due mainly to the efforts of the sponsors.

The Officers and Members are:

Irma Irwin, President.
Ruth A. McCullough, Vice-President
Ruth Bard, Board of Control
Oral Bradley, Treasurer
Rena Poland, Secretary

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB

As a result of separating the Commercial students from the large body of which they had formerly been members and placing them in the various assemblies according to their classifications, the Commercial Class was dissolved. But a meeting was held and the Commercial Club was organized to take its place. Into this club were admitted all who were taking the Commercial Curriculum and who wished to become members of the club. No special requirements were necessary for qualification. Its only purposes were to keep the members together in spirit and to promote a feeling of good fellowship and scholarship among them.

The officers elected for the second semester were: President, Perry Penz; Vice-President, Beatrice Lucas; Secretary, John Bennet; and Treasurer, Roy Barnhart. Business men from down town offices were secured to speak to the club at some of the meetings. These men, engaged in various kinds of businesses themselves, were able to talk of things which were of great interest to the members of the club, as Commercialists, and to give them good ideas as to what the business man expects of them.

Several rollicking parties were held throughout the year and during the District Typewriting and Shorthand Contest held here in April, the members of the visiting teams were the guests of the club.

THE STUDENT STAFF

THE STUDENT

Tuesday afternoon usually found everyone in his seat a little earlier than usual, because at this time the "Student" was distributed.

The Student has always proved popular with the student body since its origin in 1904 as a semi-annual magazine. Due to the support given it, it has developed to its present weekly newspaper form.

The staff was chosen this year to bring out as many different tastes and talents as possible, and that it succeeded is shown by the number of compliments received from other papers upon the way the news articles were written. Some features which proved popular were the joke column, "Discovered by Homelock Shears, the Detective," the stories which appeared every week, and the "Little Stories of School Life."

The paper next year will be under the direction of William Luther, John Osman, and Miss Price, faculty advisor, and is sure to prove a great success.

Brazil Downs Rockville in Finals

District Basket Ball Title Goes to the Brazil Five

With an air-tight defense that Rockville could not penetrate, a smooth running and fast offensive, and accurate pass work, the red and white team completely swamped the clever Rockville team by a 45-20 score in the district finals.

In comparing the work of the two teams in their attack, some anxiety was felt. Rockville scored regularly, all doubt was banished, every one was hitting the basket.

When the game started, took the ball from the tip-off and sank four straight before Rockville came back with a field goal.

Rockville's brilliant offense not have a show. Phillips had the number of Stevenson, the fast Rockville forward, and Cook broke up everything that looked like effective teamwork on the part of the red and white five, while Ed Decker and Crabb were dropping the ball through all.

Rockville rode Crabb hard on account of his showing in the morning and noon sessions, but even as he came through with five field goals.

Tommy and Ed couldn't miss them and when either of them had an opening it meant two points for Brazil, Henderson making six field goals and Dean seven.

The first half ended with Brazil leading by a score of 23-10.

The second half was a repetition of the first, except that towards the end of the session, Cook and Phillips played "keep away" with the Rockville forwards. Being in no danger, Brazil was content to keep the ball in their possession.

The game ended with Brazil leading 45-20. And the district championship was tucked safely away.

The game was an exhibition of teamwork and sportsmanship, and the officials complimented both teams on the clean game played. Only two fouls were called during the game, one on each team.

The Rockville bunch are real sportsmen; they expressed the hope that Brazil would win out at Bloomington.

Bellmore Outclasses Coalmont

Bellmore had an easy time with Coalmont and had little trouble in defeating the Clay county crew by a score of 30-14. The Bellmore crowd piled the score up to 20-8 the first half due to the efforts of Van Huse, but Coalmont stiffened and played better in the second half.

HI-Y CLUB

The Hi-Y's under the sponsorship of Mr. Cutshall, started activity last fall with a membership of fifteen boys. Mr. Keller was voted in as an honorary member.

During the school year Basket Ball Schedules were printed and one was presented to each member of the school with the compliments of the Club. Through the co-operation of Mr. A. T. Crabb, they were also able to issue schedules for the County Basket Ball Tourney.

They have aided in ushering for the picture shows given at the High School, meeting the visiting teams at the cars for the Tourneys, and in canvassing the down-town district for the sale of tickets for the Thanksgiving Foot-Ball game.

The Club stands for four fundamental principles, namely: 1. Clean Living, 2. Clean Speech, 3. Clean Scholarship, 4. Clean Athletics.

Two of the members attended Camp Bedford during the summer, which is the State Y. M. C. A. Camp for Southern Indiana.

A complete re-organization of the Club about a nucleus of these energetic young men is being looked forward to, and more and greater success is in sight for the future than has been attained in the past.

The members are: Clyde Phillips, President; Bill Houk, Vice-President; John Randolph, Treasurer; Bartley Smith, Secretary, Glenn Brewer, Tom Henderson, Reece Stigler, Emanuel Miller, Robert Strobel, Bill Luther, Orville Redenbacher, Andrew Bard, John Osman, Milo Dean, Robert King.

DISTRICT TYPEWRITING CONTEST

On April 26, Brazil High School was the host for the schools taking part in the Typewriting and Shorthand Contest for this district. The contest began in the morning with a series of typewriting contests, and was followed by the shorthand tests.

While the papers were being graded, a luncheon was served by the Domestic Science Department to the visiting teams. Following this an impromptu program was given in the auditorium, consisting of readings, a piano solo, and a violin solo, given by members of the different teams.

The papers were graded by a committee of visiting teachers, and the results were announced at this time.

Brazil came first with 28 points, Garfield 15, and Clinton third with 10.

Brazil won her points by taking team honors in both novice and amateur typewriting, and by winning second individual place in beginning shorthand.

Ruth Dalrymple and Wildus Heffner took first and second places in the novice typing, and Mary Weber and Louise Kespohl took second and third in amateur typing. Hazel Butler placed second in beginning shorthand.

Ruth Dalrymple wrote an unusually high number of words when she took first place with 55.2 words per minute.

As the result of winning the district honors, Brazil represented this section at the state contest at Muncie. The novice team which competed there was Ruth Dalrymple, Edward Wimsey and Wildus Heffner. The amateur team was composed of Mary Weber, Louise Kespohl and Margaret Boyd. Rena Poland entered the open contest, having written 100 words per minute in other tests.

"BUDDIES"

On May 2, the Senior Class of 1924 presented what has been said to be the best class play ever put on in the history of the school.

"Buddies" was a very unusual type of play. The cast was selected with care, and it is due to the fact that each one fitted his part perfectly, that the play was such a great success.

Reece Stigler and Clyde Phillips who took the principal men parts, played their parts in the very natural manner which marked the whole play. Bonnie Phillips as "Julie," did some wonderful acting, and Kathryn Keith and Julia Nance did exceedingly well in two difficult parts. Emanuel Miller as "Alphonse Pettibois," the villian of the story, deserves a great deal of credit for the fine way in which he handled the part.

Margaret Klingler and Grace Butler had very hard parts, as their lines contained a large amount of French, Bartley Smith as "Biff," the sergeant, snapped his squad around in fine shape and was the one who finally exposes "Alphonse." Fred Payne as "Buddie," and Bill Houk as "Abie," furnished a great deal of fun, "Buddie" as a Bowery character, and "Abie" as a Jewish boy from New York.

George Stearley comes in for great praise for his fine interpretation of the part of "Rube," which gave the play a touch of pathos in one scene.

Leonard Cashman as the "Orderly," and Duke Stunkard as the Corporal of the squad, portrayed other army characters and played their parts with extreme naturalness.

It was greatly through the natural manner in which every one acted, as well as the cleverness of the play that prompted the comment that it was the best amateur production ever attempted at B. H. S.

Honor Bright, a Nebraska college girl is "playing" book agent in order to finish her college course.

Dick Barrington, a Harvard graduate and only child of the Barringtons, is engaged to Tot Marvel, a chorus girl, much against the wishes of his mother and his aunt and uncle, the Bishop and Mrs. Carton. In order to give his folks a chance to meet Tot, he has invited her down for the week-end. However, Tot does not arrive at the hour expected, and it is at that time that Honor stops at the Barringtons, trying to sell some books. She meets Dick and he in his desperation, begs her to play the part of Tot until something can be done. Honor promises him to do so if he will buy a set of her books.

Honor plays the part of Tot to perfection, Dick's folks never guessing that they are being deceived. Everything is going fine until Tot does arrive, then the fun begins. Dick and Honor have a time trying to keep her out of sight. Honor tries to reason with Tot, but she will not listen. Finally Tot tells Honor she does not love Dick but loves Bill Drum, a theatrical manager. They send for Drum immediately, and after much pleading he takes Tot away.

Honor, in the meantime has fallen in love with Dick, so she thinks the safest thing to do is to leave immediately. Dick begs her not to go, saying that he loves her so, that he cannot let her go. Honor hesitates, but Mrs. Barrington also begs her to stay, and Honor, loving Mrs. Barrington, promises them to stay for her sake as well as Dick's. She also promises Dick that she will never go "book-agenting" again.

“THE GENIUS”

“The Genius” is a new play written by Wm. C. and Cecil B. De Mille.

The story is of a young man with a decided lack of artistic talent who is madly in love with an ultra artistic society girl. However she refuses him because she wishes the man she marries to have made a name for himself in the field of art.

Jack, the unfortunate young man, goes to the studio of three artists and persuades them to help him, which they are glad to do for two reasons, because Jack is a moneyed man and they are reduced to their last cent, and because Jack has an exceptionally likeable personality.

While working at the studio, he falls in love with Nell Graham, the artists' model, who has been reared since baby-hood by Mr. Vozelsburger, the old musician. He realizes that it was only an infatuation that he had for the society girl, and after much trouble their engagement is broken and he is free to marry Nell.

The scene takes place in the dressing room of a New York Theater. Cyril Ashton who is playing the part of Little Lord Fauntleroy and his mother who plays the part of Dearest are sitting in the dressing room waiting for their call to go on the stage. Cyril is telling his mother how happy he is and how glad he is that he has a good home. Soon after Flannigan's Kid, a little waif, passes the dressing room and Cyril seeing him, calls him in. He questions the Kid and finds out he has no mother, and has received no Christmas presents. Cyril is then called on the stage. He takes the Kid with him to the Earl and asks him to help the Kid, then he turns to the audience and begs them to give all their spare pennies to Flannigan's Kid so he can have a Merry Christmas. The Kid is then invited to stay and have Christmas dinner with Cyril and the other actors, an invitation which he readily accepts.

The scene takes place in the poorly furnishad kitchen of the Youngs. They are newly married people and as this is their first Christmas together, they are very happy and full of the Christmas spirit.

Della wishes to buy Jim an "honest to goodness husband and wife present," and although she has saved all her extra money, she only has one dollar and eighty-seven cents. In order to buy the platium watch fob for Jim's antique watch (one of his best loved treasurers) she sells her beautiful hair.

Mrs. O'Flarry, a neighbor, comes in finding Della half crying trying to curl her short hair. Soon Jim comes in from work and brings Della's present, which is a set of combs he has bought with the money he obtained from pawning his watch. After thinking the matter over they decide to put their presents away for awhile.

THE KING OF THE CANNIBAL ISLANDS

The Boy's Glee Club presented a black face minstrel, "The King of the Cannibal Islands" on March 5th. Every member took part in this and contributed to its success. Special numbers, "Once in A Blue Moon" and "Porcelain Maid" were rendered by George Smith and Wellington Stunkard respectively, the first supported by Bertha Mae Wilson and the second by Rosemary Bucklin. Other interesting features were the solo dance give by Bonnie Jean Shoemaker and a special dance given by a group of girls. The untiring efforts of Miss Campbell and Mr. Ray Ringo, pianist, are responsible for a great part of its success.

ORCHESTRA

The Orchestra has increased in prominence since its organization four years ago, until it now is one of the greatest and most outstanding features of the High School. A great part of its success is due to Mr. Davis, who has directed it since its organization and under his direction it has been doing exceptionally good work. Much credit should be given the Orchestra for its support in many of the school affairs. It has played for all the High School plays and also has a prominent part in the Annual Recital. Every time it has appeared it has been received with great enthusiasm.

The Beginner's Orchestra has been of great service in furnishing members for the Advanced Orchestra at the beginning of each term. Since the organization of the Beginner's Orchestra the Advanced Orchestra has always been prepared to take up the regular work in an efficient manner because of the previous training of many of the new members. The work of the Beginner's Orchestra has been especially noteworthy this year, their work being covered long before the required time and great success is assured for the Orchestra next year.

THE BAND, DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS

The Brazil High School Band has played at all the foot-ball and basket-ball games at home and several out of town games and has proved itself a very great factor in promoting the spirit of the school and in boosting the games. The Bugle Corp, which was formerly composed of girls, and the Drum Corp have both become an essential part of the band and turn out in dress parade before the games. They have thus proved a very successful means of advertising- The boys have taken unusual interest in the work and have put forth every effort to make it a success. They have played all the school songs and in addition some pieces composed by Mr. Davis himself. Mr. Davis deserves much credit for his untiring interest in this organization, and much praise is due him for his able direction of it. The entire band has gained great praise from the people of Brazil in general.

THE GIRL'S GLEE CLUB

The Girl's Glee Club has appeared several times this year on Chapel programs and on various other occasions, and has each time been heartily received. The Christmas Carols which they and the Boy's Glee Club rendered for Christmas Chapel were greatly appreciated. Much credit is due Miss Campbell for her able direction. The following officers were elected at the beginning of the term:

President, Anna Moore	Treasurer, Frances Cory
Secretary, Frances Martin	Librarian, Katherine Havercamp

The Girl's Glee Club is advancing rapidly and is one of the most progressive organizations of the school. The members at the present time are:

THE BOY'S GLEE CLUB

The Boy's Glee Club resumed its work at the beginning of the year and under the direction of Miss Campbell has shown much talent and ability. On one occasion the entire Glee Club appeared in a Chapel program and various members have appeared at other times. A double quartette, chosen from the Glee Club, sang for the Music Club at the home of Miss Alice Hawkins on January 25th, and were highly complimented for their selections. Great interest has been shown in the Glee Club by every member and this has been a vital contribution to its success.

JUNIOR-SENIOR RECEPTION

Of all the social events of the year, none is anticipated with so much pleasure as the Junior-Senior Reception, and on May 7 the present Senior Class received a hearty send-off at the most delightful reception in the history of the school.

The program began with the entertaining three-act comedy, "Adam and Eva," in the auditorium, in which the Junior Dramatic talent was shown to its best advantage in one of the most entertaining plays produced this year.

The scene then shifted to the gym, which had been converted into a magnificent ball-room, banked with spring flowers and decorated until it no longer resembled the familiar basket-ball floor.

After light refreshments, the first informal dance of the school was begun and lasted until the reception broke up at 12 o'clock.

This reception sets a precedent which future Junior classes will find hard to surpass.

SENIOR PARTIES

On the night of Hallowe'en, the Senior Class motored to the home of Charlotte Lautenschlager for the first party of the year. The home was gaily decorated with the yellow and black of Hallowe'en and grinning goblins gleamed from every side. After a short program, light refreshments were served and the rest of the evening was spent in dancing and playing "Rook."

The second Senior party was held at the High School. A program of vaudeville sketches was given in the auditorium. After the program, the party adjourned to the gymnasium, where light refreshments were served. Music was rendered throughout the evening by the Senior orchestra. The party was a success, and everyone looked forward to the next event, the Senior outing.

JUNIOR PARTIES

On Hallowe'en night, at the home of Pamela Arand, there assembled a host of goblins, ghosts and witches from all corners of the globe. Readings were given by members of the class, and music and dancing was enjoyed throughout the evening. After excellent seasonable refreshments, the guests departed, eagerly looking forward to the next Junior party.

The second Junior party was held at the home of John Spears on South Walnut Street. After a program of readings, the evening was spent in dancing. This concluded the Junior Class social events until next year.

SOPHOMORE PARTIES

The first Soph party was held at the Senior High School. A program was given in the auditorium, consisting of songs and readings. Following this the class went to the gym where several amusing games were played. The refreshments were served cafeteria style in the cooking lab. The party broke up at a late hour, and another party was planned for later in the year.

NEAR FATAL ACCIDENT

Speed Cop, Charlotte Smith, was hurt last night when her air glider was turned over in a ditch. Miss Smith's neck was twisted, causing repercussion of the epigastric epidermis and acute epistaxis. At the time of the accident, Policeman Smith was running down a couple of speeders, Estel Courtney and Kathryn Miller, of the Hawaiian Islands, who are making a record breaking tour of the United States. Her condition is serious.

DOPE FIEND REMOVED

Ben Miller, one of those wrecks of Humanity known as "dope fiends," was taken to a sanitarium last night by Chief of Police, Theron Parker.

FALSE ALARM

People rush to scene, to be disappointed

A great commotion was noticeable Sunday, on Tin Can Avenue. On rushing to the scene the people found that the noise was caused by a loud overcoat worn by Jerry Halbert. He is fond of checkers and so secured an overcoat with as large plaids as possible, that he might use it as a checker board.

BEAUTIFUL WEDDING SOLEMNIZED

One of the most beautiful of fall weddings was solemnized last night at 8:00 when Miss Vivian Murphy became the bride of Rex Brewer. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Herman Schopmeyer, using the double ring ceremony. During the ceremony Miss Clariese Evelyn Roby played "Your Trouble is Beginning." The house was decorated with sunflowers. The bride was attired in a beautiful Paris creation of sea-green gingham, banded with red cheesecloth. Her veil was held in place by a wreath of potato blossoms. The bridesmaids were Ruth McCullough of Calcutta, India; former Mayor Crabb, Sherriff Zeke Weber and Catherine Glasgo. The best man was Glen Brewer, brother of the groom. The romance is of long culmination, Mr. and Mrs. Brewer both graduating from Brazil High School in 1924. Mrs. Brewer has been employed as a baker at the East Side Bakery. Mr. Brewer is night watchman at the Acree and Caress Can Opener Factory. The young couple will take a short trip to Seelyville, after which they will go to house-keeping at once.

STRIKE PROBABLE

Miss Rena Poland, president of the Potato Diggers' Union has announced that the workers will strike unless substantial raise is given them and less work assured.

REVIVAL MEETING GROWS

Inspiring songs of worship, earnest pleas for conversion, and evidences of a much larger congregation opened the second week of the revival meeting being conducted by the famous evangelist, Dr. Otis Tuggle.

LEAVES FOR WEST

Councilman Sam Boase left today for an extended trip west for his health. It is rumored however, that he is leaving for fear of publicity concerning a scandal concerning the town in which he and Mayor Murphy are said to be involved.

CONCERT TICKETS

Walter O'Connell, famous tenor, will be heard in a concert at the Opera House, Nov. 15. Those desiring tickets may purchase them from Bertha Mae Wilson at her office.

Honors Bride-Elect

Miss Kathryn Wilder will entertain with a luncheon at the Deming today, in honor of Miss Alice Jones. The guests will be Misses Alice Jones, Dr. Adda G. Weber, Cathrine Glasgow, Bertha Mae Wilson, Bonnie Phillips of New York, and the hostess.

Fred Ridelld Arrested for Bootlegging

Wife Will Probably Divorce Him

Officers Lautenschlager and Weber arrested Fred Riddell last night on the charge of violating the Volstead Act. The officers stated that they had suspected Riddell for some time, but had never been able to catch him with the goods. Officer Lautenschlager stopped Mr. Riddell's car last night and after making a thorough search, disclosed thirty-nine gallons of Cola Cola. This is the first case of this sort to come up for some time, but it is reported that a receipt used in 1925 has been discovered, causing such a wave of bootlegging as most of us can remember back in the days when we were school children. Mr. Riddell is at present confined

Former Brazil Man Visits Here

Manuel Miller, Skipper of the "Sally," a fast schooner between San Francisco and Vancouver, is in Brazil on his vacation. Captain Miller in an interview this morning, stated that the skipping business on the Pacific coast is constantly increasing, and there is splendid opportunity for anyone with plenty of pep and ambition. Captain Miller is an authority on this question, as he has been engaged in this work for several years. He mentioned the fact that among those present at a movie directors banquet a few weeks ago, at which he was present, he had the pleasure of meeting an old friend, a Brazil girl, Miss Jeannette Miller, who is directing Charlotte Zeller, the famous star, in her latest pictures.

Prize Fighter Looses Battle

"One round" Emanuel Miller failed to stage his usual one rounp and lost the slug-fest and also the flea-weight crown at the Cigar Factory last night. Mr. Miller was distinctly out-classed by Kid Troth, and only lasted five seconds. Mr. Miller started fine and out hit Troth for the first second or so, and then as he seemed to weaken, Mr. Troth slipped across a sleep producer. Referee Loughmiller duly counted out the late champion and the crowd went wild in saluting the new title holder.

Mr. Miller was revived at an early hour this morning, and will be able to be out in two or three weeks.

The new ehampion will live in Clay City until July, when he is going to get a job in the movies at Hollywood.

Ex - Mayor Riddell of Yapp's Crossing, presented to the victor a large brass loving cup. The trophy may be seen in the window of the "Well-worth" 10c store, until Mr. Troth completes negotiations with the B. Phillips Junk Shop to take it off his hands.

Ikmics Defeat Cowboys in Thrilling Contest

The Ikmics sprang a decided surprise in nosing out the Cowboys at the vacant lot, owned by Jerry Halbert, where the Court House used to stand, by a score of 178-4.

The Ikmics is composed of ex-members of the old class of '24, while the Cowboys boast of members of the class of '25, and a contest between these old rivals drew forth a large crowd.

The game was hotly contested, and until the last few minutes it was difficult to pick a winner. The score was tied at 3-3 mark and only two minutes left to play.

Captain Bolin of the Ikmics called time out and a conference was held, and when they went back into the game they were instilled with new vigor. The first man up, Sheriff Weber, knocked the cover off the ball with one hearty slam, Ed Murphy plunged through with ten yards gain, and Aydelotte sunk two in succession from beneath the basket.

Napolean C. Osman, ex-sultan of Turkey, Captain of the Cowboys, then got nervous and knocked down his first three hurdles, putting the Ikmics in the lead by six touchdowns. Buddie Payne of the Ikmics then punted a red dragon and mah-jonged on the last tile. Ray Harris of the Cowboys shot a hot one across that baffled Urban who fled to centerfield. Ed Dean of the Cowboys then served into the wrong court and again the Ikmics were ahead.. Bob Bowman booted one over from the center of the field and things began to look black for the Ikmics, as Bell was penalized 418 yards for failing to shinney on his own side. Then as the whistle blew, Stigler thundered down the home stretch, Stearley got in a wicked left hook to the chin, Stunkard laid up by the pin in two, Cashman cleaned the alley with a perfect strike, and the Ikmic boat dashed under the wire a winner by six and one-half lengths.

A big banquet will be given to the winning team tonight, at the Culbertson Ice-cream parlor and speeches will be given by Orkney Payne, Wm. Luther, Lefty Goddard and Bryson Dobson, members of the losing team.

A Well Known Gentleman Has Returned With Fame

J. Bartley Smith, famous novelist, has returned to his study, located in the city limits of Cardonia, after a long trip through Alaska and Greenland where he has been getting the required atmosphere for his latest novel, "Tropical Fruit," and now is ready to commence the writing of his most famous novel.

It has been rumored that Mr. Smith has made a very wonderful discovery while in the wilds of Greenland. And now Mr. Smith has officially announced his miraculous find. He has declared that the "Idonnawatez" plant, that is a species of our "Sunflower," has a pulp, when pressed, produces remarkable hair oil, one that will restore hair to any bald head. He also let the reporters in on his remarkable experiment. He has grown golden locks of hair from a grape fruit. Whatever may become of his remarkable discovery, we may say now that it will make Mr. Smith an enormous fortune.

We are very fortunate to have such a wonderful distinguished gentleman in our midst. There is no doubt about the crowd that will hear him tell of a few experiences in Alaska and Greenland. He has consented to relate the

The Brave Egotist

"Gee, but you're brave."

"Say! Don't think I ain't." A pause followed in which Mary Janet looked steadily at George and said in a final tone."

"I won't."

He awoke with a start from the spell the narration of his past exploits had cast upon him.

"Won't what?"

"Won't believe you ain't brave."

"Huh! Say, you're a funny kid. How come I ain't never seen you before? You been here long?"

"'Bout a week. We moved here from the Junction."

They were talking after school. They had both been late to school that morning and together in the principal's office had given each other the once over with George's active mind making such comments as—"Gosh! darned cute kid—looks scared to death—Golly, I'm glad I'm not afraid of nothin'. I'd like to help her some how. Wonder how she happened to be late? It's my darned laziness but—"

With the entrance of the principal, a tall, lean, rather stern-faced man of middle age, Mary Janet stepped backward into a corner and George whispered reassuringly—"Don't let him scare you, kid."

Mr. Vale, with a cynically humorous smile at George, said: "Well, I see you're late again, Mr. Preston. Who's run away horse did you have to stop this time?"

"It wasn't a horse, today sir. I started out to school and right down this street about—less see—'bout two and a half blocks I seen a lil' old lady and she was—well she was sorta looking for something along the ground, y'know, on the walk and in the tree-row and—and so I ast her what she'd lost and she said her pocket-book and it had a lotta money—oh, three or four hundred dollars in it and she was going to the Post Office to mail the money to her son so that he could come home cause he's sick in Montana, Mr. Vale, and hasn't enough dough, y'know—to get back on—so—so—I—I helped her to find it. She was such a nice old lady with sorta pinky white hair and a lace cap—kinda sweet."

And with the finish of his wildly improbable tale he flashed a glance at Mary Janet and was rewarded with a gleam of respect and approval in her pretty dark eyes.

She turned to the man who wielded temporal power in the school, and wondered what he would do to this nice boy. He could scarcely blame him for his deed. She thought it noble.

Mr. Vale's voice was not stern. It sounded a little helpless and amused.

"What would you do to a boy who spun such colossal fabrications?" He was addressing her and she did not understand all of his words but she answered what was in her heart and proved that she was very, very young because she showed the boy that she believed him.

"I think it was—good of him, sir. I wouldn't do anything to him." And in spite of his stern exterior, Mr. Vale understood and dismissed them both.

That was the way it began. Day by day their friendship grew and expanded. In Mary Janet, George found an ardent listener. On long walks they took and at odd moments about school he told her yarn after yarn of his daring career. He feared nothing—had never known fear. One night—last summer it was—he had taken a dare to sleep in the cemetery all night. And once he'd killed a bear single handed—Say! Daniel Boon didn't have anything on him! Nix! Once he got lost in a big city and had ridden back home on a brake beam. Fear! He didn't know the meaning of the word!

George Preston was, perhaps, a direct descendant of Ananias but anyway he was a pretty decent little kid and Mary Janet and he got on famously.

They were much together and George exercised over her the right of discovery. He was the confident, the conquering hero. He felt his possession to be unquestioned. No other fellow had a "look in."

One evening as he came out of the building after being detained by a teacher, he saw Mary Janet and Dick Stanhope—his friend, walking down the street together and Mary Janet's voice floated back to him—frozen in his tracks:

"Gee, but you're brave."

And George was afraid.

ROSEMARY BUCKLIN.

In Days of Old

A purple haze sifted down from the hills. The swollen creek which looped itself among them sang a gurgling song. The spring air was soft and damp, like a cold cloth laid against one's aching head. I stretched myself full-length on the ground to breathe that never to be forgotten smell of young green things pushing up through the dark earth.

Very, very slowly the hills and trees outlined against the pearl gray sky, grew vague. A few big black birds poised in the air were like bold strokes of a pencil. My spirit was pushed under and submerged by the heaviness of the atmosphere. I gave up the struggle and sank.

From far off tinkled on my ears the steady gallop of a horse and rider. Swift and light-footed—a beautiful black animal with arched neck and flowing mane swung into view around a bend in the white ribbon of road.

As he rapidly approached I vaguely divined his rider. What a figure of a man! With what grace he sat his mount! How perfectly did he ride! With what aplomb he regarded the world! A King among men! I thought and then he was near enough that I could see his features clearly and the revulsion of feeling which I felt, shook me. Those eyes—aglint with the lurking evil of a preying leopard! That nose—acquiline—the brand of cruel! And a mouth sardonically malicious! A man who had dissipated the best of him. Without scruples—without soul!

He was dressed georgiously in a velvet doublet of a dull purple, breeches of cloth of gold and a wide brimmed hat of purple felt cocked up on one side by a plume of orange. His sword jangled and clanked on his long keen spurs when he walked.

Checking his horse with a cruel sharp yank of the reins he dismounted and with the assurance and ease of long custom he rapped three times on the rude wooden door that I could barely discern in the side of the hill. A gruff voice from within mumbled something unintelligible and the voice of the purple one was like smoothly cut ice—"C'eat moi, Ferrande" and the door swung open. The bleary eyed individual who came out made a decided contrast to the richly dressed one. His clothes were of old, torn, dirty sacking material and his face black with short whiskers. Beyond him I could see that his hut under the hill was hung with the skins of wild animals.

He looked utterly primitive and when he spoke it was in a voice evidently not accustomed to the conversation of humans beings.

Ferrande was telling him earnestly—what? I listened until I no longer breathed and was awarded by hearing "Tomorrow night—listen beast, at midnight—down there—where it crosses the river—do not hurt her, beast—you understand? It means this—" He had drawn from beneath his doublet a bag of gold. It clinked. The grab the half-starved dolt made for it made me physically sick. Hideous! But of the plot!

My comprehension failed to encompass a situation so gross! So revolting! I would save her! By the Lord Harry I vowed it!

Slowly, very slowly the ribbon of road over which the purple villian had vanished, faded into nothingness and the heaviness of the atmosphere lifted.

A riff in the dull clouds let down some sun-light on my face.

The wooden door grew indistinguishable in the side of the hill, wrapped in purple mist!

A party of Villa's men broke into a house wherein lived a couple of mighty pretty Senoritas and their maiden aunt. "We are Revolutionists. You are in our power! We will carry you off and marry you!" said the Villa leader.

"Alas, Senor," exclaimed one of the girls, "We submit, but pray, pray, kind sir, spare our dear aunt."

"Girls," cried Aunty, "You mind your own business. A revolution is a revolution."

"My papa clerks in a store. What does yours do?"

Reese S.—"Oh, he does whatever mamma tells him to."

As They Say In London

"District Visitor (calling on Mrs. Harris, a new arrival in the village:)

"You seem to have a great many children, Mrs. Harris."

Mrs. Harris — "Yes, mum! and what's more all their names begin with haitch. There's 'ubert my oldest, then comes 'Ilda, 'arriet and

'orace. Then there's 'arnold and 'arry and 'ector and ,onoria They're all haitches; all except the baby, and we christened her Holive."

Mr Helderman—"Mary, how long has Columbus been dead?"

"How long has he been dead," replied Mary C. wonderingly, "Gee, I didn't even know the guy was sick."

Table Manners For Freshmen

1. Do not eat your mush with a knife, it will dull the blade.
2. Never scrape the bottom of your soup bowl harshly with a spoon. A sponge is more effective.
3. To reach across more than seven persons in order to snare a hunk of bread is considered a social error. Either jerk the table cloth or harpoon a slab with your fork.

A mother was surprised to hear her small boy singing a peculiar sounding song and as he insisted in singing it she decided to see the boy's teacher. One day she went to the teacher's room and said "What song have you been teaching the pupils lately? My song has been singing, 'Ikie, Ikie, don't soak me.'" After much thought the teacher decided that this was the song: "Brighter, Lighter, do, sol, me."

"An Inch of Picture is Worth a Yard of Talk"

This is an old saying that is proving especially true in modern advertising.

We are provided with the very finest picture service for illustrating circulars, farm sale bills, stock sales, trade journals, student publications and all other printing where snappy illustrations are desired.

Student Publications

This year we have been headquarters for many publications of high schools and colleges, and have received many compliments for the high standard of this work.

We invite your investigation.
